The United States and the Gulf: Shifting Pressures, Strategies and Alignments

Edited by Steven W. Hook and Tim Niblock

The Gulf region's relations with the outside world are changing radically. The Gulf's major trading partners are now no longer predominantly Western. China, in particular, now has a significant stake and highly-critical interests in the region. The United States still dominates the security field, yet its Gulf allies have come to doubt the strength of US commitment. Meanwhile the Arab monarchies of the Gulf are struggling to cope with multiple divisions, problems and threats: the radical forces of change unleashed by the Arab Spring, the rising power of ISIS and the destabilizing impact of their unsettled relations with Iran.

Russia and the Syrian Conflict: Moscow's Domestic, Regional and Strategic Interests

By Nikolay Kozhanov

This book is the first to offer a comprehensive survey of Moscow's foreign policy interests in Syria. The author considers the Kremlin's diplomacy with Syria within the broader system of Russian foreign policy in the Middle East. He analyzes the influence of Russian domestic issues on Moscow's approaches to the subject and he considers how Moscow's priorities in Syria have evolved during the last five years and what factors have influenced this evolution. Issues addressed in this volume include Russian presence in the Middle East before and after the fall of the Soviet Union; the challenge of the Arab Spring; why it is important to save Assad; how serious the jihadist threat is to Russia; Russian military involvement in the Syrian conflict; and the significance of Moscow's intervention in the wider Middle East context.

African Politics 4 volume set
Critical Concepts in Political Science

Edited by Nic Cheeseman

This timely new collection edited by Nic Cheeseman, Director of the African Studies Centre at Oxford University, brings together the classic and essential texts of African politics, creating a top-quality and easily accessible resource for students, researchers, and policymakers alike. Each volume is introduced by a comprehensive summary chapter, newly written by the editor, which both provides a valuable overview of the key trends in the literature and explains what we know, what we don't know, and what controversies remain.

Language Rights

The International Library of Essays on Rights

Edited by Stephen May and Tom D. Campbell

This reference volume brings together the key academic contributions that have shaped the field of language rights over the last 40 years. As such, the field of language rights is also strongly interdisciplinary, drawing on work in language policy, sociolinguistics, political theory, law and education—all key disciplinary areas that are represented in this volume. It is also avowedly international, with discussion in this volume of contexts that span Europe, Africa, Asia, the Americas and Oceania/the Pacific region. The various contributions in this volume also address a range of linguistic minority groups, including Indigenous peoples, national minorities, and migrant groups.

What Is a People? seeks to reclaim "people" as an effective political concept by revisiting its uses and abuses over time. Alain Badiou surveys the idea of a people as a productive force of solidarity and emancipation and as a negative tool of categorization and suppression. Pierre Bourdieu follows with a sociolinguistic analysis of "popular" and its transformation of democracy, beliefs, songs, and even soups into phenomena with outsized importance. By engaging this topic linguistically, ethnically, culturally, and ontologically, the voices in this volume help separate "people" from its fraught associations to pursue more vital formulations.

Coping with Nuclear Weapons: Issues and Global Institutions

Global Institutions

By W. Pal Sidhu

In the recent past there have been several high-profile unilateral, bilateral and multilateral declarations calling for a world free of nuclear weapons, further efforts to prevent proliferation and initiatives to secure nuclear material from falling into the hands of non-state actors, particularly terrorists groups. This work seeks to provide a concise and comprehensive analysis of the role of global institutions in this campaign.

Historical Dictionary of Denmark

3rd edition

Historical Dictionaries of Europe

By Alastair H. Thomas

In the 21st century, Denmark combines a thriving and highly productive modern economy with extensive social care and welfare, and thus refutes the neo-conservative economists who claim that such a combination is impossible. In short, Denmark is seen by the Danes and their neighbors as a very good place to live. This third edition of Historical Dictionary of Denmark contains a chronology, an introduction, appendixes, and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 1000 cross-referenced entries on important personalities, politics, economy, foreign relations, religion, and culture.

Historical Dictionary of Morocco

3rd edition

Historical Dictionaries of Africa

By Aomar Boum and Thomas K. Park

A historical reference work on Morocco must take as its subject al-maghrib al-aqsa (the far west) as the Arabic scholars have generally referred to the approximate region of present-day Morocco, roughly the north-west corner of Africa but at times including much of the Iberian peninsula, because the modern nation-state is a relatively recent creation owing much to events in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. This third edition contains a chronology, an introduction, a glossary, and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 600 cross-referenced entries on important personalities, politics, economy, foreign relations, religion, and culture.

Historical Dictionary of the Central African Republic 4th edition

Historical Dictionaries of Africa

By Richard Bradshaw and Juan Fandos-Rius

The Central African Republic (CAR) came into existence in 1958 as a semi-autonomous member state of the Communauté (French Community), meaning that France still controlled its currency, defense, foreign affairs and national security. The history of the CAR can be interpreted in different ways but the theme of essential continuity is as important as the themes of violent change, exploitation, and enduring dependence. The dictionary section has over 1200 cross-referenced entries on important personalities, politics, economy, foreign relations, religion, and culture.

Historical Dictionary of the Gambia

5th edition

Historical Dictionaries of Africa

By David Perfect

When The Gambia achieved independence in 1965, its future seemed uncertain. An attempted coup in 1981 was put down, but Gambian democracy finally succumbed to a military takeover on 22 July 1994. While civilian rule was restored in 1996, full democracy was not and a number of subsequent presidential and parliamentary elections have been far from free and fair, while The Gambia's human rights record has been very poor since 1994. This fifth edition of the Historical Dictionary of The Gambia contains a chronology, an introduction, and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 700 cross-referenced entries on important personalities, politics, economy, foreign relations, religion, and culture.

Education for Sustainability in Japan: Resilience to Disasters for Sustainable Communities

Routledge Studies in Sustainable Development

Edited by Jane Singer, et al.

Education for Sustainable Development (ESD) approaches are holistic and interdisciplinary, values-driven, participatory, multi-method, locally relevant and emphasize critical thinking and problem-solving. This book explains how ESD approaches work in the Japanese context; their effects on different stakeholders; and their ultimate potential contribution to society in Japan. It considers ESD in both formal and informal education sectors, recognizing that even when classroom learning takes place it must be place-based and predicated on a specific community context.

Understanding the Fukushima Disaster

Routledge Studies in Hazards, Disaster Risk and Climate Change

Edited by Daisaku Yamamoto and Mistuo Yamakawa

The aftermath of Fukushima exposed a number of shortcomings in nuclear energy policy and disaster preparedness. This book gives an account of the municipal responses, citizen's responses, and coping attempts, before, during, and after the Fukushima crisis. It focuses on the background of the Fukushima disaster, from the Tohoku earthquake, to diffusion on radioactive material and risk miscommunication. It explores the processes and politics of radiation contamination, and the conditions and challenges that the disaster evacuees have faced, reflecting on the evacuation process, evacuation zoning, and hope in a post-Fukushima.

Picture Bride Stories

A Latitude 20 Book

By Barbara Kawakami

During the 1885 to 1924 immigration period of sugar plantation laborers from Japan to Hawaii, more than 200,000 Japanese, mostly single men, made the long journey by ship to Hawaii. As it became apparent that they would never return to Japan, many of the men sent for brides to join them in their adopted home. More than 20,000 of these "picture brides" immigrated from Japan and Okinawa to Hawaii to marry husbands whom they knew only through photographs exchanged between them or their families. Picture Bride Stories is a poignant collection that recounts the diverse circumstances that led them to marry strangers, their voyages to Hawaii, the surprises and trials that they encountered upon arriving, and the lives they led upon settling in a strange new land.
